Nassau County, FL - Connected

NWQ A1A @ US HWY 17, WILDLIGHT, FLORIDA 32097

Nassau County, Florida is ripe with history and it is our history that serves as the impetus for our current success and future growth. Since David Yulee constructed the rail linking Fernandina Beach to Cedar Key, logistics has played a large part in our county's economic success. Today that is evident in our tremendous rail network with access to two Class I rail lines, CSX and Norfolk Southern, and a Class III line, First Coast Railroad. Businesses located in Nassau County, Florida can reach more than 50 million consumers within an eight-hour drive with convenient access to Interstates 95, 10 and 75. The Port of Fernandina serves as our shipping connection to the world and we are in close proximity to JAXPORT and the Port of Brunswick (GA). We are a short drive from Jacksonville International Airport (JAX) and are home to the Fernandina Beach Municipal Airport (FHB).

The residents of Nassau County enjoy an idyllic way of life, with small-town charm and big city amenities, top-ranked schools and a low cost of living.

The Nassau County Economic Development Board serves as the unified voice and single point-of-contact representing Nassau County as a desirable place to relocate a business or to grow and expand an existing business. Committed to the economic vitality of Nassau County, they strive to simplify the site selection process, serving as a one-stop-shop, offering tailored, confidential services to businesses wishing to relocate, expand or launch a new venture in Nassau County.

JAXPORT: The Jacksonville Port Authority (JAXPORT) is an international trade seaport in Northeast Florida. The Port of Jacksonville currently has three operational marine terminals-Talleyrand (Downtown) and Blount Island and Dames Point (Northside), capable of handling container, automobile, bulk, break-bulk and refrigerated cargoes, as well as cruise passenger service and local ferry service, and has a growing business with Latin American markets. After New York City, Jacksonville imports the second largest amount of vehicles in the country. In 2013, JAXPORT's three public marine terminals handled a total of 8.2 million tons of cargo.

Seaports:

Blount Island Marine Terminal: Located just nine nautical miles from the Atlantic Ocean, the Blount Island Marine Terminal has 5,280 feet of berthing space on 41 feet of deepwater. Blount Island has an additional 1,350 feet of berthing space on 38 feet of water. This 754-acre terminal is JAXPORT's largest container facility – handling 80 percent of the nearly 800,000 TEUs moved annually through JAXPORT facilities. The terminal dedicates more than 150 acres to container storage, and 240,000 square feet of dockside transit shed to house commodities such as stainless steel, linerboard, wood pulp and other cargoes in need of warehousing.

Talleyrand Marine Terminal: The Talleyrand Marine Terminal is located 21 miles from the Atlantic Ocean on the St. Johns River. This 173-acre terminal has 38 feet of water along its docks. Talleyrand handles South American and Caribbean containerized cargoes, break-bulk commodities such as steel and paper, imported automobiles, frozen and chilled goods and liquid bulk commodities.

Dames Point Marine Terminal: The Dames Point Marine Terminal is JAXPORT's newest marine facility. The terminal fronts on the harbor's 41-foot deep channel. Located on more than 585 acres of land owned by JAXPORT, this terminal is only 12 miles from the open sea. Besides servicing bulk cargoes on 22 acres, JAXPORT and Mitsui O.S.K. Lines, Ltd., (MOL), a Tokyo based logistics and ocean transportation company, are funding construction of the 158-acre container-handling facility, which will include two 1,200-foot berths, six Post-Panamax container cranes, and other infrastructure necessary to accommodate MOL's operations. Additional phases of the project could expand MOL's container facility to more than 200 acres, all on JAXPORT owned property.

Port of Fernandina: The Port of Fernandina is located on Florida's Atlantic coast. It is used for terminal service for pulp and paper as well as steel exports, machinery, auto parts, beverages, chemicals, building materials and food products. Container lines from the port serve routes to Colombia, Venezuela, the Dominican Republic, Haiti, Jamaica, Aruba, Curaçao and Bermuda. A deepwater port on Amelia Island has been used by traders and as a base for combatants going back several hundred years.

Port of Savannah: The Port of Savannah is less than a 2 hour drive north on I-95 from Wildlight Commerce Park. This is the largest single container terminal in North America.

Port of Brunswick: The Port of Brunswick's diverse carrier fleet, convenient location and ample space provide automotive and agricultural clients a vital link to global markets. It is the East Coast port of choice for Ro/Ro (roll-on/roll-off) and agri-products. At the Port of Brunswick, offers dedicated Ro/Ro, superior service (ranks No. 1 for new import vehicles in the U.S. and is the nation's second busiest port for import and export vehicles.), more capability, more choices, interstate connections, speed to market and room to expand.

NWQ A1A @ US HWY 17, WILDLIGHT, FLORIDA 32097 - NEARBY INFRASTRUCTURE

Roads: Local access to four interstates (I-95, I-10, I-295, and I-75) provides distribution along the entire U.S. East Coast, the southern tier of the nation to the Pacific Coast, and major sections of the South and Midwest. U.S. Highways 1, 17, 90, and 301 also provide a link to the nation's markets.

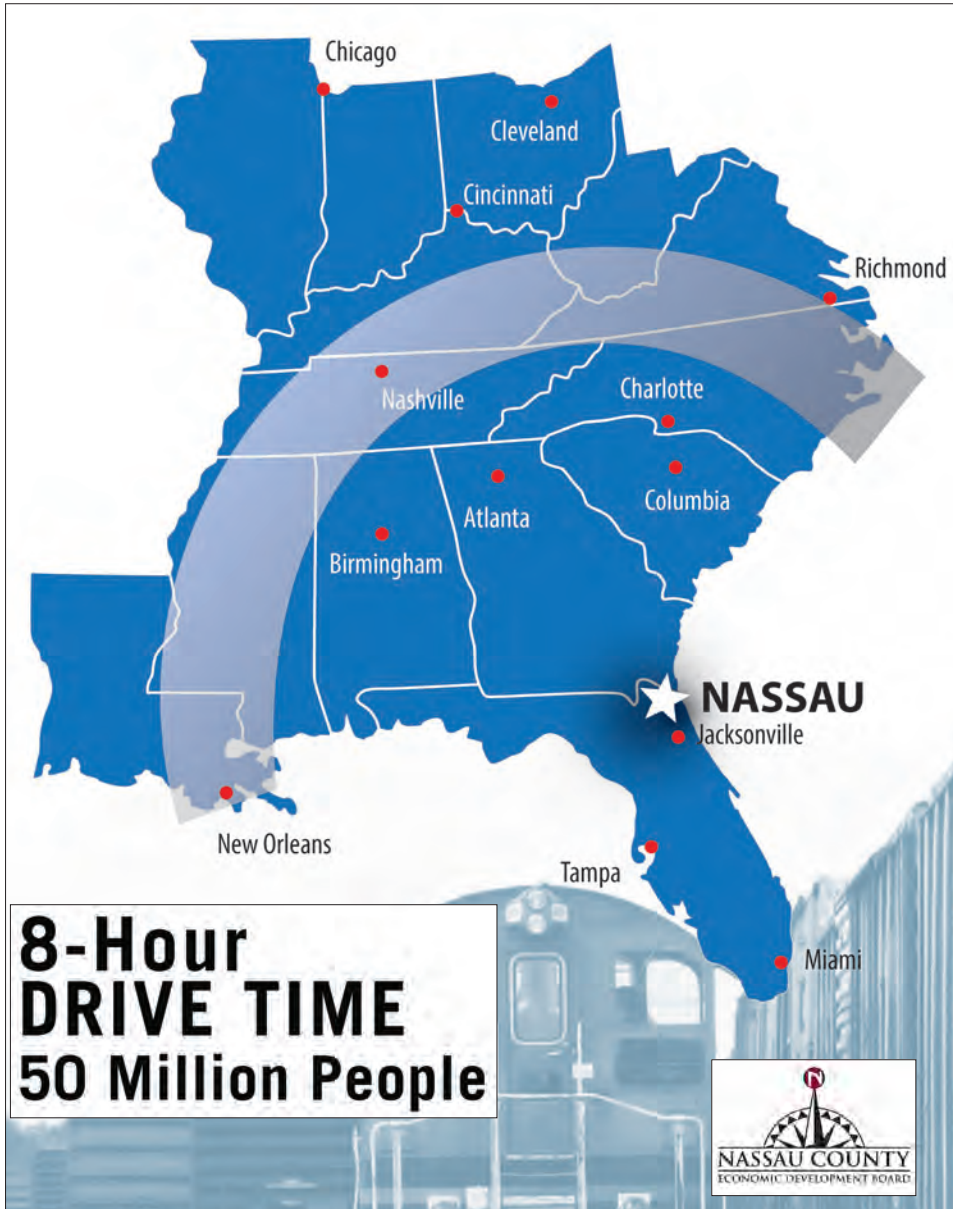

Rail: CSX, Florida East Coast railroad, and First Coast rail (to Fernandina) service the area, offering connections to the eastern United States and Canada. In addition, Norfolk Southern services Jacksonville, just south of the subject property.

Air: Jacksonville International Airport is home to general aviation and cargo services. Fernandina Beach Municipal Airport is a city-owned public-use airport near the business district of Fernandina
