POSITIONED FOR EXPANSIVE GROWTH

Pooler, a sprawling new suburb of Savannah, GA, is one of the fastest growing cities in Georgia and has seen recent explosive growth. The Port of Savannah is fueling this continued growth. The Port continues to see record numbers, and is undergoing major expansions to accommodate even more traffic. As a result, industrial activity in the area has grown significantly. Savannah's overall industrial market now has more than 55.3 million square feet of space, and has more than doubled in size since 1998. Several road projects have been completed to facilitate container traffic and industrial expansion including the extension of Jimmy DeLoach Parkway from Highway 21 to Bourne Ave and a new diamond interchange at the Highway 21 exit off I-95. Construction will begin on an extension of Benton Blvd to Highway 21 and an extension of Jimmy DeLoach Parkway to I-16.
